CENSUS SNAPSHOT

HAWAII
APRIL 2008

Adam P. Romero, Public Policy Fellow Clifford J. Rosky, Research Fellow M.V. Lee Badgett, Research Director Gary J. Gates, Senior Research Fellow

Using data from the U.S. Census Bureau, this report provides demographic and economic information about same-sex couples and same-sex couples raising children in Hawaii. We compare same-sex "unmarried partners," which the Census Bureau defines as an unmarried couple who "shares living quarters and has a close personal relationship," to different-sex married couples in Hawaii. ${ }^{1}$

In many ways, the more than 3,200 same-sex couples living in Hawaii are similar to married couples. According to Census 2000, they live throughout the State, are racially and ethnically diverse, have partners who depend upon one another financially, and actively participate in Hawaii's economy. Census data also show that about $21 \%$ of same-sex couples in Hawaii are raising children, and they have similar economic resources to provide for their families as married couples.

${ }^{1}$ Unless otherwise noted, we calculate the demographic characteristics from the Census 2000 Public Use Microdata Sample ( $5 \%$ file) available from the U.S. Census Bureau. For a detailed discussion of the Census 2000 methodology used in this report, see Census Snapshot: Methods Note, available at http://www.law.ucla.edu/williamsinstitute/ publications/MethodologicalDetailsForCensusSnapshots.pdf. In estimating numbers of same-sex couples and children raised by same-sex couples, however, we use the total number of same-sex couples from 2005 and the proportion of couples with children from 2000 in order to provide a more up-to-date estimate.
